TAKE NOTE FOODIES: CHEF GREGORY HALGAND OPENS FINE DINING RESTAURANT IN THE HEART OF GRUYERE, SWITZERLAND

Gruyère's culinary scene is now enhanced with the opening of OGOZ, a fine dining restaurant located on the Golf de la Gruyère that will quickly become a dining destination in its own right.

Recently opened on September 9th, OGOZ was named after the island located in the middle of the lake it overlooks. Stunning setting therefore for this restaurant developed and directed by talented chef Gregory Halgand.

Chef Halgand earned his stripes working in renowned kitchen such as Bernard Loiseau (3 Michelin stars), Patrick Jeffroy (2 Michelin stars) and Eric Briffard at the George V in Paris. Over the years, he won all three Toques d'Or, Prosper Montagne and Taittinger international awards. Gregory Halgand recently lead the kitchen at Chalet Royalp Villars where he earned one Michelin star and 16 points Gault & Millau. Halgand's approach is to assemble memories of his childhood in Brittany with Swiss terroir, using seasonal products from local suppliers.

The restaurant is opened from Wednesday to Saturday from 7pm. Patrons are presented with two menus to choose from: a four-course discovery delight, and a six-course tasting menu.

Gérald Lampaert, Founder and CEO at VERTU Hotels and Resorts states: " To have the Golf Hôtel de la Gruyère as part of our collection was already an honor. Today, with fine dining OGOZ Gastronomique Restaurant at the heart of this beautiful complex, we can only have 'culinary stars' in our eyes".

Philippe Attia, Co-Founder and President at VERTU Hotels and Resorts states: From the beginning of this year Chef Halgand and his brigade are leading the well orchestrated kitchen of the Golf de la Gruyère in Switzerland.

A "partition" skillfully played by the entire team with a passion and creativity aiming to surprise every guest".
